PHILADELPHIA,

SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 29.

United Irishmen.

For the following disclosures, the Public are indebted to Mr. COBBETT.

The first I heard of the existence of a Society of United Irishmen here, was by a printed paper (a copy of which the reader will see bye-and-bye) dated the 18th Dec. last, and signed Js. REYNOLDS. It was enveloped in a piece of paper addressed to me, and was left by an unknown hand, at the house of a person in Market-street. It was on the 16th of January that I received this paper, and in about three weeks afterwards, the plan of the conspiracy was conveyed to me through the same channel.

This plan, which is called a constitution, is printed in a small octavo pamphlet, bearing date the 8th of August last. The imprint imports, that it was printed at Philadelphia, for the society; but the Printer's name is very cautiously omitted. The person who enclosed me the pamphlet, has indeed, written in the margin, the name of a printer, who, from the villainous publications which have come from his press, I make no doubt was really the man; but this evidence is too weak for me to proceed upon in publishing his name to the world, as guilty of an offence, which amounts to treason against the United States. Here follows the plan of the conspiracy.

DECLARATION and CONSTITUTION
Of the AMERICAN SOCIETY of
UNITED IRISHMEN.
Philadelphia: Printed for the Society,
August 8, 1797.

DECLARATION.

Six hundred years have past, since division and fraud reduced Ireland to colonial subserviency; the division of her people have ever since subjected them to the lash and to the goad of a foreign tyranny; a tyranny more odious than Asiatic despotism.

In our day and generation we have seen and we have felt; it is not necessary, there is not now time to count over the long black catalogue of her baleful wrongs; there is not now time to argue and to complain: THIS IS THE TIME TO ACT; to act with energy we must act with union: Irishmen are united at home, we will not be disunited abroad.

Our love for freedom has not been lessened by what we have experienced of its effects, or for Ireland by our distance. Under the sacred influence of devotion to the Union, EQUALITY AND LIBERTY of ALL men, we gladly embrace the solemn ties by which we wish to be bound to one another, and hereby form ourselves into an association under the name of

OF
UNITED IRISHMEN.
Adopting the following
CONSTITUTION.

[The declared intention, of procuring "equality and liberty to ALL men," is a clear proof Ireland alone was not in their view. But, as we go on, we shall perceive that neither that country nor its concerns are at all included in the objects of these people. The word Ireland, Irishmen, &c. are mere substitutes for other words, like the cant of the pick-pockets, according to which a bog means a shilling, a pig means a sixpence, and so on. This will clearly appear from the articles and TEST of the precious constitution.]

Sec. 1. That ALL SUCH PERSONS and such only, shall be eligible to this Society of United Irishmen, as shall have suffered in the cause of freedom, or who, by their zeal for THE RIGHTS OF MANKIND, shall have rendered themselves distinguished and worthy of attachment and trust.

[Thus, you see, it is not IRISHMEN alone, who are eligible to this Society; but ALL SUCH PERSONS as shall, according to their cant, have suffered in the cause of freedom, or have shewn their zeal for the rights of mankind!! In other words, every scoundrel, of whatever nation, provided he has been manacled or transported, or has rendered himself worthy of the gibbet, for some attempt at rebellion or some act of treason, no matter under what government or on what occasion; or, provided his seditious principles are so well known and established as to leave no room to doubt of his attachment to the cause. Americans then, and Britons and Frenchmen, and men of every country being eligible to the society, can any one be silly enough to suppose, that the conspiracy had Ireland in view? What had any of these people to do with Ireland? But, on the absurdity of this we shall have time to remark bye-and-bye. Indeed, the TEST itself gives the lie to this cant about Ireland. All that is necessary to remark on this section, is, that it provides for the admission of every discontented, factious man in the United States: and that the latter part of it is no more than a copy of the qualification clause of the Jacobin Club at Paris, except that the latter required positive proof from every new member of his having actually committed some crime deserving the halter, while our liberal conspirators, thinking it unjust to exclude a villain merely because he has failed of success, are willing, in some cases, to admit the intention as equal in merit to the deed.]

Sec. 2. That no person shall be proposed for admittance but by a member in his place.

Sec. 3. That no proposition for the admittance of a member shall be received, unless it be seconded by another member present, and that it shall likewise be necessary for the proposer and seconder, to vouch for the moral character and CIVISM of the person proposed; in defect of which, no election shall take place.

Sec. 4. Members shall have the privilege of proposing, or seconding the proposal of candidates, in any section, as well as that to which they belong.

Sec. 5. A candidate proposed agreeable to the 2d, 3d, and 4th sections, shall not be balloted for, until the next meeting after that in which he has been proposed, unless known to two-thirds of the members present (two black beans to reject without a reason, and one with reasons) but upon his election, he shall be immediately admitted, under the following forms:—

Sec. 6. Before a person elected shall be considered a member, the President shall put to him the following question; an affirmative to the 1st, 5th and 6th, and a negative to answer to the 2d, 3d, and 4th, shall be indispensable to admission as such:

Sec. 7. I. Do you believe a free form of government, and an uncontroled opinion on all subjects, to be the common rights of all the human species.

II. Do you think the people of Ireland are in possession of these rights.

III. Do you think the government of G. Britain ever was, or is now disposed to acknowledge, or assent, to the freedom of Ireland.

IV. Do you think Great-Britain ought of right, to govern Ireland.

V. Are you willing to do all that in you lies to promote the emancipation of Ireland, and the establishment of a republican form of government there.

VI. Are you willing to bind yourself, by a solemn obligation, to the principles you have acknowledged.

Sec. 8. That upon the candidate answering these questions, as required by the sixth section, the following shall be administered as a test, all present standing:

TEST.

"I A. B. in the presence of the SUPREME BEING do most solemnly swear, that I will, to the utmost of my power, promote the emancipation of Ireland from the tyranny of the British government!—That I will use the like endeavors for encreasing and perpetuating, the warmest affection among all religious denominations of men, and for the attainment of LIBERTY and EQUALITY, TO MANKIND, IN WHATEVER NATION I MAY RESIDE. Moreover, I do swear, that I will, as far as in me lies, promote the interest of this, and every other Society of United Irishmen, and of each of its members—and that I will never, from fear of punishment, or hope of reward, divulge any of its SECRETS given to me as such.

That the TEST of this Society, the INTENTION of this INSTITUTION, (in all other respects than as a social body, attached to freedom) be considered as SECRET AND INVIOLABLE in all cases, but between members, and in the body of the Society.

Sec. 9. That nevertheless, a member of the society shall not be considered as divulging its secrets, who shall propound to persons disposed to become members, the sense of the six propositions which precede the test.

[Here we see that Ireland is almost dropped out of sight. It is just mentioned in order to introduce the British government; but the initiated is to swear, that he will do the utmost of his power for the attainment of LIBERTY and EQUALITY, to MANKIND; and, these efforts does he swear to make, IN WHATEVER NATION HE MAY RESIDE! Ireland, therefore, if not totally dismissed by the TEST, is no more contemplated by it than America is, taking the words in their literal sense; and we shall see in the sequel, that this blessed liberty and equality is intended for America alone.

The criminality of the purpose and end of the combination is most amply proved by the section that immediately follows the TEST.—"The TEST of this society and the INTENTION of the institution shall be kept a SECRET and INVIOLABLE."—The members may tell the world that it is a "social body, attached to freedom;" that is, they may give out that its principles are friendly to general liberty; they may represent it as one of those collections of individuals that men of sense usually laugh at, but they must not say a word about the INTENTION of the institution, nor must they discover the nature of the OATH.

Now, if nothing more were meant than an association against the government of Great Britain, which they must well know would excite contempt and ridicule, why all this secrecy? Why conceal the nature of the oath; and, particularly, why conceal the intention of the institution?

By the 9th Section we see, that the discoveries, made even to those who offer themselves as members, are to extend no further than "the sense of the six propositions preceding the TEST." The Test itself they are to know nothing of, 'till they have gone too far to retreat, and then they are bound not to divulge what they have learnt. First, the initiated member swears, that he "will never, from fear of punishment or hope of reward, divulge any of the secrets, given to him as such? and then the INTENTION of the institution is immediately given to him as one of the those inviolable secrets! If there were nothing wicked, nothing highly criminal, nothing dark and traiterous in the INTENTION, why is the discovery of it thus guarded against? Men never "fear punishment" for concealing what is not criminal. Indeed this TEST stamps the character of the combination: a Test of secrecy, as to the motives of the members, is essential to a conspiracy; and it is that which distinguishes this society from "a social body," which is the character they wish to appear under in the eyes of the world.

This Test differs from that taken in Ireland in one particular, which is this: The Irish test is confined to giving liberty and equality to Ireland alone; whereas the initiated in the American society swears to make the same efforts in whatever country they may reside!!! This addition at once explains the views of the United Irishmen in this country; for, if they had no other object before them than they had in Ireland, why this striking alteration in their Test?

It is now proved, I think, that this conspiracy had for its object something highly criminal against the laws and government of the United States. I now proceed to lay before the public the remainder of the Constitution, as it is called, which will discover the extent of the plan, and will, I doubt not convince the reader, that its real INTENTION, is, an insurrection in this country in favor of France.—I beg the reader to pursue the lecture with attention, and observe how artful the affiliation is formed, and how well it is calculated to bring the collected force into actual service.]

Sec. 10. The members thus initiated shall subscribe his name to the Constitution, and pay to the treasurer half a dollar.

Sec. 11. The monthly subscription of each member shall be a quarter of a dollar; payable on the first meeting in every month; if the member be elected after the 20th of any month, he shall pay no more than his fee of initiation for that month.

Sec. 12. If any member neglects to pay the respective sums above mentioned, for the space of three months, the secretary of his section shall then signify in writing to the member, the amount of the arrears, and demand payment, and that in default thereof, his name, and the sum due, shall be publicly read by the treasurer of the section to which he may belong, on the three next succeeding meetings thereof, and if his arrears be not paid on the third reading, he shall be excluded the society. But excluded members, upon paying all arrears due, and the usual contributions that were payable during his exclusion, may apply for admission, agreeable to the usual form; Provided, nevertheless, that this rule shall not extend to such members as shall declare their inability to pay, in reply to the secretary, in an authentic form, and where local circumstances may render their attendance impossible, or highly inconvenient.

Sec. 13. Any person elected by ballot, who shall not attend three successive meetings after his election, shall forfeit it, unless due cause be shewn to the proper section for his absence.

OF THE OFFICERS OF SECTIONS.

Sec. 1. There shall be a president and secretary for each section elected, by ballot, who shall continue in office six weeks—they shall be re-eligible after a period equal to that, during which they were in office.

Sec. 2. That a treasurer shall be appointed by ballot, who shall continue in office for three months, and shall not be re-eligible until the expiration of three months.

Sec. 3. The secretary shall have power, at the desire of the president, to convoke extra meetings.

Sec. 4. Each section shall meet weekly or oftener in special cases.

Sec. 5. The hours of meeting shall be at seven o'clock from the 25th September till 25th March, and at eight o'clock from the 25th March till the 25th September.

Sec. 6. The chair shall be taken at the above hours precisely, if there shall be ten members present.

Sec. 7. That in the absence of the president, or any other officer, the section shall call a member to the office, pro. tem.

Sec. 8. That upon the president taking the chair, he shall direct the secretary to read the minutes of the preceding meeting.

Sec. 9. The roll shall be called previous to every adjournment.

Sec. 10. That balloting for, and the nomination, or initiation of candidates, shall precede further business.

Sec. 11. That on open votes the President shall have a casting voice, and when he speaks to a motion, he shall vacate the chair.

Sec. 12. That every motion shall be made standing, shall be delivered to the president or chairman in writing if required; must be seconded by another member, also standing, before it shall be received by the president; any matter of peculiar importance shall first be debated in a committee of the whole.

Sec. 13. The mover of a question shall have liberty to speak in reply; but no other shall speak more than once, but in explanation on the same subject, except in a committee of the whole.

Sec. 14. In matter of order, the president or chairman shall decide finally.

Sec. 15. That in each section a committee shall be appointed to select extracts from political works, to be read occasionally.

Sec. 16. That fines shall be levied for disorderly behaviour, but not exceeding fifty cents each, which fine shall be nominated by the president or chairman, and in case of appeal, be decided by the majority of members present.

Sec. 17. No person shall interrupt the chairman or any other member while speaking, unless to the point of order; repetition of interruption, contrary to this rule, to subject the disorderly person to such censure, besides a fine, as the society shall think fit. Extreme disorderly behaviour shall subject the offender to expulsion, at the will of three fourths of the members present.

Sec. 18. A member absenting himself from his section three nights successively, (without acquainting it of the cause in writing, or by means of another member, who shall declare his honour, that he is authorised by such member, to make an apology for him, and offering some sufficient reason for his absence) shall be liable to a fine of fifty cents, and on refusing to pay such fine shall not be entitled to vote in his section, or transact any other duty in the society until he shall have paid his fine.

Of Certificates.

Sec. 1. CERTIFICATES shall be provisionally granted to members of the society removing from their vicinage, which shall be signed by the president and secretary of the section to which the members belong.

Sec. 2. A member going to a foreign country, or to a distant part of the United States, shall give a week's notice of his intention, but in urgent cases the committee of secrecy, of his section, may grant such certificate.

Sec. 3. No member is entitled to a certificate, but in the foregoing cases.

Sec. 4. That members, on their return, must re-deliver their certificates to the president or secretary, in the presence of the section to which they belong.

Of an Enlarged Organization.

Sec. 1. THAT when any section shall consist of eight members in a city or large town, it shall separate into two sections; country sections may separate as their peculiar circumstances may render expedient.

Sec. 2. That any section, state committee, or the general executive committee, shall have the power of appointing an agent or agents, and furnishing him or them with copies of the constitution, for the purpose of forming new sections.

Sec. 3. Each section shall, quarterly, make an exact return of the numbers, names, residences, and occupations of its members, to its proper state committee, and the state committee shall make similar returns, at like periods, to the general executive committee, who shall keep an exact register of the names thus returned.

Sec. 4. As soon as there shall be two or more sections in any state of the American union, they shall be represented in a state committee, in the following manner, viz.—when a section shall amount to eight members, they shall send one delegate to said committee; when to twenty-two, two delegates; and when to thirty-three, three delegates, who shall not be re-eligible until they have been out of office, for a time, equal to their term of service—two-thirds of whom shall form a quorum. The state committee shall meet monthly, or oftener, if necessary, and be partially renewed by a member from each section every month.

Sec. 5. Distant sections shall have the power of appointing persons to represent them in their respective state committees, from among their brethren whose local situation may render attendance more convenient.

Sec. 6. Each section shall appoint a committee of secrecy and correspondence, to communicate with the state committee, which shall be regulated in like manner. It shall also elect, every six weeks, a delegate, and sub-delegate to attend the meetings of neighbouring sections and report proceedings.

Sec. 7. That the secretary of every section shall, when a member takes his seat, and subscribes the test, take down his place of residence, which shall be carefully transmit to the committee of secrecy thereof, who shall divide the sections into sub-sections of eight members who may live contiguous to one another; that every eighth man shall have the charge of the other seven members, to warn them in cases of urgency, or to extraordinary meetings of the section: the secret committee or secretary of the section, shall by warning those eighths, consider themselves as warning the whole section.

Sec. 8. When two or more state committees have been formed, they shall elect two of their members from each state, shall go out of office by lot, and the rest in rotation, and be replaced by a new member every three months, and not be re-elegible until a period equal to their term of service. The general executive committee is to possess the direction of the great interests of the whole society, and keep up a constant communication with the committees of the different states.

Sec. 9. The general executive committee shall when their number exceed four, elect from among themselves, a committee of secrecy and correspondence, consisting of three members, one of whom shall go out of office every three months, and shall be reeligible after a period equal to their time of service.

Sec. 10. The general executive committee shall assemble as often as the interests of the institution demand, or when required so to do by the committee of any state.

Sec. 11. There shall be a Treasurer for each state, to whom the Treasurers of the Sections are to return quarterly payments and accounts. Each of the State treasurers are, at like periods, to make similar returns to the treasurer appointed by the General Executive committee, who is to continue in office three months, and to be accountable to their committee of secrecy add correspondence; he shall also, if required, exhibit his accounts to the secret committee of any section. The State Treasurer shall be appointed by the State Committee.

Sec. 12. Every officer, and every member of a committee, is responsible to the body of whom he was elected, and liable to any punishment they may, on account of delinquency, inflict.

Sec. 13. No person shall be eligible to hold two offices within his respective section.

Sec. 14. That when the State Committees, or the General Executive Committee, or a majority of the sections recommend a revision of the preceeding constitution, it shall take place.

[Now, leaving the mere formalities and other trifling things aside, let us plan and look at it in its substance. It is very properly called an "enlarged organization," for it embraces an extent no less than that of the whole union.

First, we see, that every restless wretch, of whatever nation, is admitted in any section of the society, and has his name, place of residence, &c. enrolled on its list; but, lest the assemblages should become unwieldy, or alarming to the magistrates, these sections when they get to a certain strength seperate, and the detached parts form new ones, just as bees swarm when the hive is over-crowded—The troops being thus enrolled in the sections, the next thing is to render them manageable. Were the sections subjected to no superior command; were they to remain scattered over the country without any common head, they would be like so many independent companies without a commander. But these troops have not been raised to lie in idleness, and therefore, a mode of uniting their efforts is provided. The sections in every state are to send delegates to form a State Committee; and these fifteen State Committees are to send delegates to form a General Executive Committee;" and this is the whole brought to one point.

So much for the organization. Now for the operate part of the plan.

"The general EXECUTIVE Committee" (which I have not the least doubt is now sitting in Philadelphia) keeps up a constant communication with the State Committees, and from it, the whole society, or rather army, receives "directions" when and how to act. It has returns made to it of the numbers enrolled in each State, of the names, residence, and occupation, of the persons enrolled; by this mean it is at all times informed of its strength, and of where that strength lies.

When it is necessary TO ACT, the General Executive Committee are to dispatch their orders to the State Committee; these to their sections, and these again (by their committee of secrecy) to their sub sections. Here the orders reach the active troops, and that their may be no confusion in their movements, these sub sections consist of only eight men each, all living near one another, and one of these eight is a sort of non commission officer, who, (to use the very words of the conspirators) is to "have the charge of the other seven, and is to WARN them IN CASES OF URGENCY"!!!

Now, I appeal to any man of common sense, whether this infernal combination can possibly have any other object in view than an insurrection against the government of America. What "cases of urgency" can arise in this country, what oppoutunity can offer itself here, for overturning the Brtish Government in Ireland? Where the villains, indeen furnished with wings; could they like other birds of passage, assemble in a flock and take their flight to Ireland; then the ostensible motive of the association would have something like plausibility about it; but, as they are, this ostensible motive is a palpable absurdity, a mere trick which has been invented in order to inveigle ignorant persons to take the TEST, and, in case of desertion, to avoid the punishment which the law awards to traitors and spies; or at least, to leave room for doubt and contention in the courts of justice; a bad chance being better than none and ten years imprisonment being better than death.

That this conspiracy is intended to aid the cause of France, it is hardly necessary to insist on; every one must perceive it at the first glance. What can these ragged ruffians expect to do alone? How can they alone support their current expences, exclusive of "cases of urgency," of arms, ammunition, &c. &c. By an attention to the financical part of their plan, you will perceive, that the money they collect from the members is barely sufficient to defray the charges which must necessarily be incurred for rooms to meet in. Who is to pay for printing their CONSTITUTIONS, their CERTIFICATES (which I hear is from an engraved copper plate); who is to pay for the time and travelling expences of all their delegates from the Sections of the State Committees, and from them to the General Executive Committee at Philadelphia; who is to pay a sum amounting to not less than forty thousand dollars annually? Who but those who boast of their "Diplomatick Skill," and of their "powerful faction in this country"; those who have long had in pay the leading patriots in Ireland, and who have constantly supported a hireling press in each of the principal cities of America?

Next, observe that the closest intimacy exists between the sans-culotte French who are here, the most distinguished of the emigrated United Irishmen, and a base American printer, notoriously in the service of France. Observe too, that NAPPER TANDY went from New-York to France, and that the conspiracy, as appears by its date, was not formed, 'till after we heard of his arrival at Paris.

The leaders in this conspiracy are the very same persons, who conducted that in Ireland. When a section of their deluded partizans, in that country, were taken unawares by the King's troops, no money but French was found upon them, and this in a retired part of the kingdom, where it was impossible these infatuated wretches could have come at it through any other channel than that of the despots of Paris and their wicked agents. And, if a conspiracy could be so effectually paid there, in a country at open war with France, with an alien law vigorously enforced, how easy must it be for them to maintain a hired and regularly paid conspiracy here, when there is no check whatsoever to their machinations!

This diabolical plan was formed on the 8th of August last; immediately before the YELLOW FEVER commenced its rage in this city; with this in his recollection the reader will form his opinion respecting the following, which is a copy of the printed paper before mentioned,

AMERICAN SOCIETY, OF
UNITED IRISHMEN.

When the society of United Irishmen was formed here men where found emulous of crouding to the Irish standard, for the aspect of Ireland then afforded hope that her wrongs would soon be redressed.—That view so consoling to humanity, has for a moment been obscured; but it is not honourable to desert a deserving friend in distress, it is not honourable to abandon a meritorious cause, which, when prosperous we have sworn to support.

The society is happy to find, that there is still reason to think, the fire and the scourge will not long be exercised over our brethren with impunity, that the tyrannical imprisonments, the rapes, the arsons, the torturers, and the military murders are about to be avenged, and, that a manly people, whom 600 years slavery could not debase, are about to be restored to their rights.

We have cause to deplore the loss we have sustained, by the disease which lately suspended our meetings; and we are unwilling to ascribe the present neglect of attendance of some members to unworthy motives—but it is deemed a duty, to notify you, that those who in future absent themselves, cannot conformably to the 18th article of the Constitution, be regarded as belonging to the association.

The next meeting will be held at 7 o'clock on the evening of the 21st inst. in the African school room, Willing's alley, which lies between Third, Fourth, Walnut and Spruce streets.

Signed by order of the committee.
Js. REYNOLDS.

Philadelphia, Dec. 18, 1797

This notice, I would have the reader believe, I have not published without good proof of it being signed by REYNOLDS, the seeker of "REPOSE." His name is written, and the hand-writing has not only been compared with the signature to a letter of his, now in my possession; but has also been compared and verified before one of the judges in this city. All that is now wanted is, good proof of the person who printed, or who authorized printing, the plan of the conspiracy, which is called the CONSTITUTION, and if any American, native or adopted, is in possession of the means of producing such proof, and neglects to produce it, he is to all intents and purposes a TRAITOR.]

By this Day's Mail.

NEW-YORK, December 28.

Capt. Miles, of the schooner Royal Fusilier, arrived yesterday from Halifax, has favored us with the Royal Gazette of the 4th instant.

The Royal Gazette mentions the arrival at Halifax of the British Packet in 49 days from Falmouth. She brought no papers later than the 9th of October. The Packet sailed for this port 9 days before captain Miles, who saw on his passage a vessel dismasted, which it is probable was her. The Royal Gazette contains a variety of foreign matter of old dates. We select from it such paragraphs as we believe have not appeared in our prints:—

Rastadt, Sept. 22.

The Deputation of the Empire, in the 68th sitting, passed a conclusum, which declares, that they will not make any further concessions to France. The French ministers have privately communicated to the members of the congress, that their government does not require any further possession on the right bank of the Rhine, and that they desire with the most sincere solicitude the immediate establishment of peace.

Genoa, Sept, 3.

It appears that all Corsicans in the English service, or such of them as are attached to the cause of Britain, are to unite in the island of Elba. The reason of this is not known, but it is supposed that an expedition will be made against the eastern Corsica or the island of Rosa, where they kept up a secret understanding with the party of Paoli. The Genoese marine is to have two more frigate, two corvettes, and two xebecs.

Vienna, Sept. 22.

"The number of prisoners taken by the English in the late sea engagement, the most terrible that ever was fought, was 3705. Admiral Nelson found it unadviseable to take them on board; but, having disarmed them, put them on the coast of Egypt, first making them take on oath not to serve against England; but the officers he detained prisoners of war.

"On board the L'Orient which blew up, was the general war chest of the fleet, containing several millions in ready money. The English entertain hopes that they shall be able to find and weigh up the chest.

"It is reported, that during the battle a mutual agreement was made, to cease firing for two hours, to give the crews time to take some sustenance."

The French seamen who survived the fate of their comrades, and were taken prisoners, were made by Admiral Nelson to swear they would never serve against England again; they were then disarmed and set on shore on the coast of Egypt, but the French officers he detained prisoners on board his ships.

London, Oct. 9.

Amongst the papers intercepted by admiral Nelson is a letter from gen. Buonaparte, to his brother Joseph Buonaparte, member of the council of five hundred, and formerly ambassador at Rome. It contains interesting details respecting his expedition, his situation, and the consequences of the destruction of the French fleet. He complains bitterly of the French government, which deceived him in regard to the disposition of the inhabitants of Egypt, and the means of succeeding in his enterprize. He represents his situation as extremely critical, from the diminution of his army, by diseases, by the battles he is continually obliged to fight, by the detachments required to preserve the chain of communication between Cairo, Rosetta, and Alexandria, by the garrisons of these towns, and adds these words—"My position is such that I can neither advance nor retreat."

This letter contains a variety of reflections critical as well as philosophical, suggested by the condition in which the general finds himself, and which will render the publication of it extremely interesting.

A letter from on officer of the Vanguard, addressed to his sister at bath, dated off the mouth of the Nile, August 13th, contains the following intelligence:—"The admiral is in a fair way of recovery, though there will be a large scar on his forehead, but an honorable one. Most of our French prizes, together with some of our own ships, leave us this day for Gibraltar or England. We remain here a few weeks longer, with five sail of the line, to cruize of Alexandria—after which we go to Naples to refit. The admiral talks of seeing England in a few months. We have taken Buonaparte's dispatches, which the admiral informs me are of the utmost consequence. He and the whole army wish themselves again in France, for the Arabs keep them in perpetual agitation on shore, and we cut them off from all supply by sea. Provisions are very scarce with him. Some letters of inferior consequence, I presume, have been shewn me by admiral Nelson; one of them from citizen Talleyrand to his wife in France, points out every hardship they have encountered.—Every Frenchman here asserts, that the Directory wish Buonaparte dead, for till then there will be no peace, and on that account they sent him with this army. I read a letter from Buonaparte's son to his mother—he states, that he never saw Buonaparte so low spirited as he is at present. General Berthier says, in one of his letters, that this is the first time the great general has been foiled, and he fears a revolution in the army will be the consequence. The late victory of the English, he says, is the most fatal blow that France has experienced during this war."

FELLOW-CITIZENS,

New years eve is approaching, when it is feared that the idle practice which has for some time past prevailed in the city and liberties of shooting out the old year, and shooting in the new one, as it is absurdly called, will be repeated, which has often been attended with dangerous and alarming consequences. Therefore every legal endeavor should be used to check the evil and to support the violated laws of our country in this instance so frequently insulted. The citizens are earnestly requested to lend their assistance to bring to punishment the offenders; and the constables and watchmen are particularly enjoined to be vigilant and active, in arresting such daring violators of the public peace. It is sincerely to be hoped that the civil officers and other good citizens in the county will assist the city police to carry into effect so useful a regulation.

ROBERT WHARTON, mayor.

Yesterday in the House of Representatives of the United States, the question on agreeing to the resolution proposed by Mr. Griswold, was taken and decided as follows:

On Wednesday afternoon last, Logan appeared in the House of Representatives of this state, was qualified, and took his seat as a Representative for the County of Philadelphia.

Mr. Merry, the poet, author of the pieces signed Della Crusca, the Pains of Memory, &c. &c. is dead.

The low fellow who was lately committed to the jail of this city for seditious expressions, like most of his associates in Jacobinism, is no stranger to prison walls and prison fare—A wretch whose name appears on the records of a criminal court, in the honorable character of States evidence against his less artful accomplices in public crime, and thereby rescues his neck from the halter is a fit tool for the execution of any project, however diobolical; but is surely unworthy the confidence even of rogues.

Extract of a letter from Northumberland county, state of Pennsylvania, dated December 17th, 1798.

"As to politics they run very high here; and there is much disturbances among the people of Northampton county, in particular, in regard to the taxation. They have plainly told the assessors, on the peril of their lives, not to pretend to execute their orders of assessment, in consequence of which, the assessors have returned their warrants to the commissioners. Frely, one of the commissioners for the state of Pennsylvania, and a resident in Northampton county, was up at Wilkesbarre last week, and signified to the inhabitants it was likely the militia would have to be called out, to put the laws in force, when colonel Franklin offered the militia of Luzerne and to head them himself, and further said, that as the people of Northampton county had propagated a report that he was inimical to the government of Pennsylvania, he would prove how false it was. How far this matter will be carried God only knows."

Charleston, December 6.

Yesterday arrived the brig Jerusha, Richards, Kingston, (Jam.) 30 days.

Extract from the log book of the brig Jerusha, capt. Josiah Richards, from Jamaica.

"Sailed from Jamaica the 3d day of November, with part of the Jamaica fleet, bound through the Windward passage, but was obliged to bear away, and come through the Gulph.

"On the 12th of the said month, was boarded by the French privateer, called the Coffee Mill, which formerly belonged to capt Alexander, fitted out of Charleston; they overhauled my papers, and let me pass, after taking one barrel of sugar and a barrel of bread.

"On the 21st of the said month, was boarded by the Montezuma sloop of war, off the Havanna. Captain Philips, in the Baltimore sloop of war, was cruiling off said port, and had captured a small privateer, mounting 4 guns; he had her still with him. He informed me, that the Constitution, capt. Nicholson, had sprung her bowsprit, which obliged her to bear away, where, he could not tell."

The Jerusha was also boarded by the Coffee Mill, on her passage out, off the east end of Jamaica.

New-York, December 28.

Arrived this morning brig Amiable Creole, in 21 days from the Havannah, sailed under convoy of the U. S. sloop of of war Baltimore—by her we learn that the brig Amazone, Rapes, of this port, is taken by a French privateer and carried in there, and that five or six privateers were cruizing off the Havannah, and captured all Americans no matter were bound, but were in dread of American cruizers. There were numbers of American prizes at the Hrvannah. The armed ship Gen. Wayne, Seaman, was there.

THIS DAY PUBLISHED,
BY WILLIAM YOUNG,
Corner of Cheſnut and Second-ſtreets,
JOAN OF ARC,
AN EPIC POEM,
By Robert Southey; with notes.
"WE do not heſitate to declare our opinion that the poetical powers diſplayed in it are of a very ſuperior kind—Conceptions more lofty and daring, ſentiments more commanding, and language more energetic will not eaſily be found:—nor does ſcarcely any part of it ſink into languor, as the glow of feelings and genius animates the whole. The language is, for the moſt part, modelled on that of Milton; and not unfrequently, it has a ſtrong reliſh of Shakeſpeare."
Monthly Review, vol. 19, p. 361.

A HISTORY, OR ANECDOTES OF THE REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA,
IN THE YEAR 1762.
Tranſlated from the French of M. de Rulhiere; With an elegant Head of the late Empreſs.
[The ſecond edition, price 75 cents.]
"The grounds of M. de Rulhiere's information ſeem indiſputable, and his readers appear to have every reaſon to be ſatisfied with his diſcernment in unfolding the motives and circumſtances that concurred in bringing about this ſtriking event.
"We ſhall only add, that we have ſeldom met with more intereſting original anecdotes, than thoſe that are contained in the little work which we have now reviewed."
